

Roll Up Your Sleeves! It's time to Get Down To Business with #WMSchooled 2018

Don't miss out on our Vital Leadership Networking and Learning Event

"Valuable time away from the chalk face. Time to reflect, think, plan and do!"

Are you driven by a passion for making a difference?

If making a change in children's lives is your number one priority, then it is time to 'roll up your sleeves' at our Leadership Learning Event. #WMSchooled 2018 will tackle the burning issues surrounding the school leadership system. At this year's Conference you will:

- Learn what is going on 'straight from the horse's mouth'
- Work through real-life examples of what has worked - and what hasn't!
- Discuss problems and possible solutions with experts
- Network, build relationships and share knowledge with peers
- Return to work with effective solutions to meet future challenges

Friday 18th May 2018 at Chateau Impney Hotel & Exhibition Centre

Registration is simple - book your place now: <http://www.wmschooled.co.uk/register>

Christine Quinn, Regional Schools Commissioner for the West Midlands, will join Richard Gill (ATLP), Professor Mick Waters (University of Wolverhampton) and James McNeillie (Ofsted) for a conversation about the hot topics to be covered during the day. Read more about our packed programme: <http://www.wmschooled.co.uk/programme>

This year's event is less about just listening and more about two-way communication. As part of that, you will join one of the following interactive workshops:

- The Use of Ed-Tech in Enhancing Learning
- Workforce Development as Driver for School Improvement
- Closing the Gap in EYFS
- Supporting Disadvantaged Students in Secondary School
- Working Together to Improve Governance
- Effectiveness of Multi Academy Trusts
