

I have worked within the sustainability sector for the past 18 years and this reflects my personal interest and passion for environmental sustainability. I have been with SWM since 2013 and lead the organisation in its role as sustainability adviser to cross-sector organisations across the West Midlands, growing our membership and supporting our good practice networks. My background is in the private sector in the waste and water industry where I worked for over 10 years.

I have a post graduate diploma in Water and Environmental Management from the University of Bristol and completed my undergraduate studies in Environmental Biogeoscience at the University of Leeds.
