

James Jenkins

James is a Senior Associate in the Ofwat Environment Team. James' work is principally focused on climate change mitigation and adaptation in the context of the water industry in England and Wales. Prior to joining Ofwat James worked in Higher Education as an academic whose research and teaching focused on understanding how governments, businesses, and consumers respond to environmental problems, with a particular emphasis on drinking water quality and water efficiency. In addition, James has experience of representing water consumers via memberships of the Customer Challenge Group for Affinity Water, and the Consumer Council for Water regional group for London and the South East Region.
