We believe every employee should be trained in Mental Health First Aid

Employees can train and qualify in three weeks, earning an accredited, nationally recognised qualification.

With over 140,000 people trained in Mental Health First Aid within the last year alone, your organisation needs to ensure it follows the rise of mental health issues in the UK.

Mental Health Ambassadors

Every organisation who signs up multiple employees to any of our series of mental health courses will be assigned a Mental Health Ambassador.

Your Ambassador will liaise directly with your employees making course enrolment stress-free and time-efficient.

“Lets educate ourselves, change the stigma and normalise conversations about mental health.”
