

WHO WE ARE

Hope for the Future is a climate charity working across the UK to empower people to communicate the urgency of climate change with their local politicians. Our vision is to see communities and their elected representatives come together to take decisive action on the climate

Through our youth and schools work we equip young people with the skills to become climate changemakers.

One of the methods we enact this is aim is by facilitating effective engagements between young people and their elected representatives, including hosting climate Q&A sessions between school students and their local politicians.

ABOUT OUR WORKSHOPS

We provide free workshops for young people to empower them to be climate changemakers. Our workshops provide young people (and teachers!) with:

- Understanding of climate change
- The skills to be an effective and engaged climate communicator
- The opportunity to meet (via Zoom) your local Councillor or Member of Parliament and inspire them to take climate action (organised by us!).

Our workshops focus on the 3 Es:

1. Encourage students to think more critically about climate change
2. Empower students to get involved in climate politics
3. Engage local politicians to take climate action
